

NEITHER COULD WIN.

The Everhardt-Abbott Mill Ends in a Draw.

Another Twenty-five Round Fight at New Orleans.

BOTH END STRONG.

Everhardt the Better Man But Couldn't Knock Out.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 26.—The entertainment commenced with a friendly exhibition bout of four rounds between Young Griffo, the Australian, and Mike Dunn. Griffo's work was much appreciated by the audience, which numbered about 5,000.

The event of the evening was then announced, and Jack Everhardt of New Orleans and Stanton Abbott of England entered the ring to fight for a $1,500 purse. The referee warned the men in reference to fouls. Everhardt was seconded by F. S. Willis, J. J. Bates and Sutherland Bros.; Abbott by John Dunn, Billy Palmer and Alf Robb and Billy Chittenden.

For the first five rounds Everhardt had all the best of the fight. He landed repeatedly on Abbott's jaw and stomach. In the fourth round the Englishman was fought to the ropes, where they were ordered to break away. In the sixth round Everhardt got first blood.

Round Fifteen.—This was the hottest round of the fight. Everhardt having much the best of it. The Englishman landed a right over the heart.

Round Seventeen.—Everhardt landed several hard punches with the right and had the best of the hitting, though in the eighteenth the men broke even, Everhardt finding his opponent's face three times near the close of the round.

Round Nineteen.—Nothing of importance was done in this or the twentieth rounds. Exchanges were even but light.

The twenty-fifth round commenced fast and furious. Everhardt landing three rapid rights, while Abbott held his left glove in a partial clinch. The men clinched repeatedly in this round and were ordered to break. Everhardt was still the aggressor, forcing Abbott around the ring. Both men seemed very strong. Everhardt's left landed frequently on Abbott's head, and the Englishman clinched frequently to avoid punishment, and improved his previous record with Everhardt by fighting a draw, which was announced by Referee Duffy.

The fight was a fair one throughout and Everhardt regained his reputation in this meeting by establishing himself as a fair fighter. The well-known Police Captain William Barrett was in charge.

WHEAT CROP OF FRANCE.

Consult General Moras Forwards an Important Report From Paris.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Samuel E. Moras, the consul general at Paris, has sent to the state department an abstract of the official report on the wheat crop in France for 1894. It is estimated by the French statistician, says Mr. Moras, that the crops of 1894 throughout the world will be 35 per cent in excess of the world's demands for consumption and seed. The annual consumption of wheat in France is estimated at from 118,000,000 to 125,000,000 hectolitres, an amount in excess of, if equal to the probable domestic production for the current year. On July 31 the amount of imported wheat awaiting withdrawal for consumption from the custom entrepôts was 559,630 hectos, so that there will be a large surplus over the probable demand for the next twelve months, even should another bushel be not imported. It is mentioned that in Belgium, Holland and the United Kingdom, which admit wheat free, the current prices are less than in Paris.

IMPERIAL EDICT ISSUED.

The Emperor of China Expresses Regret at the Death of General Tso.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A dispatch received here from Tien Tsin says that an imperial edict has been issued by the emperor of China expressing his regret at the death of General Tso who was killed while leading a charge at the battle of Ping Yang. As a token of this regret the emperor has ordered that posthumous honors be paid to the dead general and imperial favors have been bestowed upon his family.

Straight Democratic Ticket Nominated.

EMORIA, Kan., Sept. 25.—The Lyon county Democratic convention met here yesterday and nominated the following candidates: Probate judge, Alfred Roberts; district clerk, William H. Harry; school superintendent, Miss Anna Brogan; representative to legislature, Forty-seventh district, R. B. Shepherd; Forty-eighth district, J. M. Silsbee; commissioner, Second district, Ernest Arroy. This will make four tickets, the Republicans, Populists and Prohibitionists having already named their candidates.

The Riddled With Bullets.

NORT, Mo., Sept. 25.—Ben Austin, a well-known blacksmith, was shot and almost instantly killed by a young Seneca Indian several miles west of Tipton, Mo., last night. Austin received seven balls from a revolver and a charge from a shot gun. It is supposed to be the result of a long standing grudge. Austin was a dangerous man when drinking and has killed two men.

Democrats Fuse on Simpson.

GREAT BEND, Kan., Sept. 25.—The Democratic central committee of the Seventh congressional district met here yesterday and nominated Jerry Simpson for congress by a vote of 19 to 5.

Prepare yourself for life. Work by day and spend your evenings in study. See Dr. Menninger.

THE PEARY EXPEDITION.

The Relief Party and Mrs. Peary and Baby Reach Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—The little steamer Falcon, with the Peary relief party and members of the expedition on board, arrived yesterday afternoon. Long before the vessel reached her moorings thousands of people had gathered at the wharves in the vicinity to welcome the explorers. As soon as the Falcon was tied to the dock, Mrs. Peary, with her baby and an Eskimo girl, whom Mrs. Peary brought with her, were escorted aboard a train for Washington, the home of her mother. The brave little woman showed plainly by her manner that she was much chagrined because of her husband's determination to remain in the Arctic regions. She declares she is going north again next summer and bring him back to civilization if she has to drag him.

Commander Bryant, who had charge of the relief party, says the expedition was a great success.

"We made many valuable collections, the ethnological specimens being very rare. I think we have the finest series of photographs of life and scenes in the Arctic country that were ever taken."

All on board were very reticent. It is said an embargo has been placed on their lips for five days or longer, and it will therefore be difficult to get information about the trip. It was intimated by one of the men with Peary that several who came away would have remained with the explorer in the frozen North but for the scarcity of food.

When asked if it was true the explorer and his party had been compelled to eat whale blubber, the men declined to either confirm or deny the story.

It is believed, however, that Peary is threatened with a lack of food that may become serious. The Falcon will load with coal here and return immediately to St. Johns.

COLGATE'S BODY FOUND.

A Leg and Thigh Bone All That Was Left of the Deserted Cook.

MISSOULA, Mont., Sept. 25.—The Missoula contains a sensational story of the recovery and burial of the remains of George Colgate, deserted cook of the notorious hunting party headed by William B. Colgate, the son of General Colgate, late commander of the department of the Columbia.

The discovery was made about August 23 by Lieutenant Elliott, eight miles below the spot where the desertion occurred on the Clearwater river. All that remained of Colgate's body was a thigh bone and one leg, and these were mangled and gnawed by wild beasts infesting that region. It is presumed the balance of the remains were carried away by the animals into mountain fastnesses. At the same spot also was found the mangled box fishing line and other articles identified as Colgate's property.

The remains were interred in Lower Hot Springs, on the Middle fork of the Clearwater. Lieutenant Elliott was sent out on this mission by the present commander of the department of the Columbia, to which official he will make a full report, there being many points tending to prove Colgate's desertion was cowardly in the extreme.

BATTLE OF YALU RIVER.

Official Version Giving the Number of Japs Killed and Wounded.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 25.—The German cruiser Alexandrine has arrived here. An official version of the battle of Yalu river says that the Japanese killed included Commander Sakamoto of the gunboat Akagi, Lieutenants Tekaha and Senokuchi of the cruiser Hashidate, Lieutenants Sima and Ito of the cruiser Matsushima, Lieutenant Magal of the cruiser Akitsuki, Lieutenant Asao of the cruiser Yoshima, Chief Surgeon Miyake, Chief Paymaster Ishizuka and Surgeon Murakosi. Thirty non-commissioned officers and men were killed and 700 wounded.

Big Cut in Passenger Rates.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The Atchafalpa road has much disconcerted the other Western lines by announcing its intention to make a $5.75 rate between Chicago and Kansas City, tickets to be on sale from September 28 to October 6, from Chicago, and from October 1 to October 8 for the return trip from Kansas City. The action was taken by the Atchafalpa because the other Western lines have agreed not to make a $4.25 rate from Chicago to St. Louis and to confine cheap rates on account of the St. Louis fair to territory within 200 miles of St. Louis.

Horrible Death of a Young Farmer.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Sept. 25.—The body of John Shackelford, a young farmer living near Clayton, Vernon county, Mo., was found mangled on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad track by the section hands, six miles east of this city. His head had been severed from his body by a train. He had evidently attempted to get off the moving train near his farm and was thrown under the wheels.

Mr. Wagener Declines.

ATCHAFALPA, Kan., Sept. 25.—B. P. Wagener has positively declined to be a candidate for the legislature from the city district of Atchafalpa county. The Democrats had hoped to strengthen their ticket by the use of his name.

Catholic Conference.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The national conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches held a communion service yesterday morning, conducted by Rev. Edward Everett Hale of Boston. The new president, Senator George F. Hoar, of Concord, Mass., addressed the convention at length, reviewing the work of this denomination and pictured for it a glorious future. Resolutions in memory of George William Curtis, president of the conference, were adopted. Standing committees were appointed.

We mean business. Do you? Then fit yourself for it by study during your spare hours. See Dr. Menninger.

DONE BY THE TARIFF.

The New Law Causes Brazil to Abandon Reciprocity.

Minister Mendonca Explains the Notice of Abrogation.

HURTS THEIR SUGAR.

Reciprocity Treaty Gave Them a United States Market.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The Brazilian government has given notice that the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Brazil will be abrogated by Brazil on January 1 next. Minister Mendonca, the Brazilian minister here, received cable directions on Sunday to give the requisite notice. The minister says authorities in Brazil had notified United States Minister Thompson at Rio of this action on Saturday. The treaty is the principal one negotiated by Secretary Blaine under the reciprocity provisions of the McKinley law.

Senator Mendonca said: "Brazil's action is a necessary sequence to the enactment of the new tariff law by the United States, and there is no significance in the action of my country beyond its going its part towards the termination of a treaty which the tariff law itself abrogates. Brazil has acted, however, in strict conformity to the original agreement embodied in notes between Mr. Blaine and myself, exchanged when the treaty was made. They gave either country the privilege of renouncing the treaty on July or January 1 of any given year by giving three months' notice. The tariff law served to abrogate the treaty without notice to Brazil, but our government saw fit to give the full three months' notice. The effect is to make the new tariff rates exist against Brazilian exports since August, while the reciprocity rates for American goods will remain until January in Brazil."

Mr. Mendonca was asked as to the effect of the change on trade.

"The reciprocity treaty worked very well," he said. "It was chiefly beneficial to Brazil in sugar. Prior to it our sugar had only the domestic market, but the reciprocity treaty gave us the United States market, and, as a result, our sugar trade to this country has tripled in the last three years. It promised even greater increase when the full benefit of the reciprocity treaty was understood. The coffee trade, which was another main item, will not be affected by the change. On the part of the United States the reciprocity treaty gave advantages to this country on manufactured iron goods, railroad supplies, and agricultural products."

Money for Moving Crops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Since the work of moving crops in the South and West the treasury department has been called upon to supply these sections with large quantities of silver dollars. Silver dollars have become known in the treasury as crop dollars because of the extra demand for them made at this time of year. This year the demand is heavy, indicating, it is thought, an unusually heavy crop both in the South and West. In the West silver and gold are asked for in preference to silver certificates or treasury notes. In the South the uniform demand is for silver.

Settled Out of Court.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The charge of forgery against Caroline Ellsworth, daughter of the Milwaukee millionaire, Isaac Ellsworth, was nolle prossed yesterday. Miss Ellsworth was charged by several Chicago merchants with obtaining goods by forged checks. The silver is said to have been settled outside of court by the girl's father. Miss Ellsworth, who is highly educated and refined in appearance, is said to have been arrested on similar charges in Kansas City and other places.

Run Down by a Passenger Train.

PAOLA, Kan., Sept. 25.—The 8-year-old son of Henry Overbeck, while crossing the Gulf track near the city limits, was run down by a passenger train. His leg was broken in two places and he received injuries about the head. He is not expected to recover.

WAS "HIS MARK" FORGED?

Alex Garrett Says He Never Signed the Information Against Jointist Campbell.

A motion for a new trial in the case of Bob Campbell, who was convicted on seven counts of selling liquor, was argued today in the district court yesterday afternoon by his attorney, Charles F. Hayden. The motion was taken under advisement by Judge Hazen.

The motion in some respects is a remarkable one, being backed by a charge of forgery to the original information. In substantiation of his motion Mr. Fensky had Alex Garrett placed on the stand. Garrett is the colored man whose name was attached to the information on which Campbell was arrested.

Garrett stated that if his name, or rather his mark, was on the document, it was a forgery, for he never signed the document. He stated that he had given Jim McCoy, a colored porter, and given him the money to buy liquor from Jordan. He bought it of Jordan and not of Campbell. He signed an information against Jordan, he says, but not against Campbell. The people in the sheriff's office laugh at Garrett's denial, and say he is talking through his hat.

Mr. C. A. Goodwin has opened up a rental agency at 835 Kansas avenue. This is the only exclusive rental agency in the city and it is something that has long been needed. Mr. Goodwin informs us that he will devote his entire time to this business. You will find him clever, polite and accommodating. We would like to see Mr. Goodman prosper in this enterprise.

THE PRIESTS OF PALLAS.

GRAND PARADE, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2.

The Priests of Pallas at Kansas City will parade this year Tuesday evening, October 2, and the people who witness it are assured of seeing the grandest procession of the most beautiful floats ever produced. This popular organization can always be depended upon to furnish an entertainment that will fully repay all the people who may visit Kansas City upon this occasion.

The subject chosen this year is one of unusual interest, affording an excellent opportunity for brilliant, artistic effects, and the Priests and their large corps of artists have taken advantage of the occasion to charm the seeker of the beautiful and to gratify the student of the intellectual. Colored fires and calcium lights will render brilliant and many of the leading bands of Kansas and Missouri will participate. A one-fare rate for the round trip has been made for this occasion by the Union Pacific System, good October 2 to 8, from points in Kansas within 250 miles of Kansas City, and Nebraska points within 200 miles, and many special trains will be run. Karival Krewe parade on Thursday, October 4th, afternoon and evening. See your nearest Union Pacific agent.

Nebraska Democrats Bolt.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 25.—At midnight Hon. Euclid Martin, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, declared that in the event the convention should declare for fusion with the Populists the administration delegates will bolt, organize a separate convention and put a straight ticket in the field. As this is certain to be done, Martin at midnight completed arrangements for renting a hall for the bolt convention. Excellent is intense among delegates over the developments.

Rock Island Reduces Rates.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—The Rock Island railroad last evening gave out the startling announcement that on and after September 28 the passenger rate between Kansas City and Chicago will be reduced from $12.50 to $6.75, a reduction of nearly half in a rate that has been maintained without change for many months—in fact since the close of the war. No explanation has been vouchsafed as to the cause which led to the reduction in rates.

Robbed by Footpads.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—William Simpson, a farmer living near Kearney, Mo., was robbed of $145 by two highwaymen in an alley back of the police patrol wagon barn, on Fourth street, a block and a half west of police headquarters, yesterday morning at 3:30 o'clock.

BRIEFS BY WIRE.

Joseph Chamberlain, speaking at Leeds, Eng., on the question of the abolition of the house of lords, said he would favor any reasonable proposal to strengthen the house of lords by giving it the authority and power derived from the United States senate from the representative principle.

Acting Secretary Sims has issued a requisition on the treasury for $10,800,000 for the payment of pensions, to be deposited with the following agencies: Pittsburg, $1,000,000; Milwaukee, $1,000,000; Des Moines, Iowa, $2,100,000; Concord, N. H., $800,000; Chicago, $2,700,000; Buffalo, $1,700,000.

The arguments in the case against President Debs and other officers of the A. R. U. were begun in the United States court of Chicago. Ex-District Attorney Milchrist opened the argument for the government with a speech occupying the morning and afternoon sessions.

GOV. MC KINLEY AT TOPEKA

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3RD.

Gov. Wm. McKinley of Ohio, father of the famous bill bearing his name and a possible candidate for the presidency in 1896, has arranged to deliver a speech at Topeka, Wednesday, October 3rd, at 9 a. m. For this occasion the Missouri Pacific railway will run special trains from Ft. Scott, Council Grove, Paola and intermediate points to Topeka, arriving at the capital at 8:30 a. m. on the morning of the 3rd. Returning specials will leave at 3 p. m. same day. Greatly reduced rates will be in effect for this event. See local agents for full particulars regarding departure of trains, rates, etc. H. C. Townsend, General Passenger agent, St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. T. J. Smith's Meetings.

Mrs. T. J. Smith of McPherson, who was a few years ago a Populist campaign speaker, but who two years ago joined the Republican party, will make some speeches for the Republican state ticket this year. The state central committee has arranged the following dates for meetings to be addressed by Mrs. Smith: Norton, Oct. 3; Alma, Oct. 4; Ness City, Oct. 6; Leoti, Oct. 8; Riley, Oct. 10; Zanesdale, Oct. 11; Mulvane, Oct. 12; Larned, Oct. 13; Safford, Oct. 15; St. John, Oct. 16; Edna, Oct. 19; Labette City, Oct. 20; Seneca, Oct. 22; Centralia, Oct. 23; Scottville, Oct. 25; Cawker City, Oct. 26.

A TINY REPUBLIC.

Its Notice to a Big One to Mind Its Own Business.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The message received the other day by the republic of France, the largest in Europe, from the republic of Andorra, the smallest in the world, was a surprising thing. It was instigated by a Spanish prelate and possessed other qualities than that of being a surprise. It was amusing and at the same time significant, and while it cannot be said to have been important in the sense that would attach to such a communication if Andorra were a larger state, yet there is likely to be considerable diplomatic correspondence before the last word is heard about it.

The republic of Andorra has a population of but 6,000 souls, and it is because of its numerical insignificance, coupled with the unique physical characteristics of its location and territory, that it has been able to preserve a virtual independence since the time of the "emperor with the long beard," Charlemagne, who gave it its autonomy. It is situated in a narrow, secluded vale, high up in the Pyrenees, that noble range that divides France from Spain. All about it are high rocky mountain walls, which at points rise into imposing pine clad peaks, that stand watch and ward over the hamlets of men and women who live and toil below. Over the territories of France and Spain the red tide of war has surged back and forth. Waged between the two fiery nations, it has reached across the range more than once, but through it all, when thrones have crumbled and dynasties have changed, Andorra has been at peace.

Its people, simple in their lives, primitive in their thought, have been content to let the outside world worry and fight, while they have attended to their own small affairs. As in matters of war, so it has been in mental and material things. Andorra has slept while the world has rushed by, and the Andorrans of today transact their affairs, eat, sleep and clothe themselves as did their ancestors of hundreds of years ago. Only at rare intervals has the outside world even remembered that there was an Andorra, and then it has almost always been only because some writer of books or maker of pictures has sought out the vale, and made known some of the quaint things there and nowhere else existing outside the realm of fancy.

Although possessing autonomy with regard to internal affairs, certain of Andorra's outside matters have always been controlled by a sort of joint suzerainty between France and Spain, the former's control being direct, while that of Spain has been through the bishop of Urgel. It is he who put up the Andorrans to send the message spoken of, wherein France was notified that in future she must cease to mind the affairs of her small neighbor. Its people feel now, they say, that with the bishop's help they can get along very well alone. Two or three years ago this same bishop of Urgel declared that no telegraph wire could pass over Andorran territory, for he held the telegraph to be an invention of Satan. Just how this matter turned out I do not remember, and perhaps few others outside those directly interested do either, for hurrying men of affairs have more important matters to think and worry and talk about. The bishop's authority, it will be observed, is well nigh as great as that of a monarch, and it is quite likely that he controls the elections. In that case he is as much of a boss as even was Mr. Croker of New York, of whom Paris has heard recently. The bishop's influence and that of his predecessors, however, must have always been salutary, for we are told that crime has been unknown in Andorra since the close of the seventeenth century. The people still speak with something like awe of the last instance. It was the outcome of a love affair and was not a very heinous offense.

Lawsuits seem to be almost as rare as crime, and there are but two notaries in all Andorra. They receive small fees for their services, but all other public duties are performed gratuitously. All able bodied adult male Andorrans are nominally members of the army, so that the republic has quite a military force, but its martial duties are light, for the last recorded engagement occurred more than 1,000 years ago. The state is governed by a select council of 24 members, elected each year, and a president, chosen for life from among the oldest and wisest men. From this it will appear that great respect is paid to age. This is rendered more apparent even by the fact that the oldest member of each family is its nominal and actual head and is obeyed implicitly by all the others. It is to be hoped that the recent action of the council in cutting loose from France will not tend to destroy the almost ideal and wholly quaint customs and life of the people of the tiny state.

The New Guns Are Dangerous.

Some interesting articles have been published by The Vossische Zeitung on the small caliber guns and the researches of various professors as to the effect of wounds made by these guns at different distances—effects that are horrible. The conclusion is that in any future battles there will be incomparably more dead and severely wounded than ever before in the world's history. And as the new guns shoot far the treatment of the wounded on the battlefield and their transport to the hospitals will be much more slow, difficult and dangerous.

Angry at World's Fair Officials.

The British exhibitors are complaining bitterly that the medals of honor awarded at the Chicago fair have not been received yet. One of them writes to the London Times that he has been informed that they have not even been designed yet. He affirms that he is unable to get any information from the British commissioner or the fair officials.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable quivering in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their usual conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit. When I saw an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvellous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and although I had run down from 170 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as mine."—James Kane, La. Roe, Co.
